 Ever wonder how shareholders earn from their investments?

Let's talk dividends!

 Dividends are like rewards distributed by companies to their shareholders from profits earned. When a company does well, it shares a portion of its profits with its shareholders, often in the form of cash payments called “Dividends”.

Dividends are paid to shareholders because they are the true owners of the company.  Dividends are a mechanism used to share financial success with those who have invested.

For SAB Zenzele Kabili

 it starts with the brewing prowess of AB InBev, tirelessly crafting the world's favourite beverage - beer. As a proud shareholder of AB InBev, SAB Zenzele Kabili reaps the benefits of this success.

As AB InBev's production improves leading to higher turn-over and higher profits, so too does the dividend flow to SAB Zenzele Kabili.

 Together, AB InBev and SAB Zenzele Kabili foster a mutually beneficial partnership, empowering shareholders and cultivating prosperity.
